

How To Find Full-Text Electronic Articles

Need to know if a journal, magazine or newspaper is available in full-text, just Click Here!

Once you click on the link, you'll be taken to the E-Journal portal as seen below.

What do I do now?

You have several search options available: title/ISSN, AZ title list and subject browse.

Search for a Journal by Title/ISSN:

The A-to-Z title search looks only for journal titles. It does not search journal content.

Title begins with:

This is the default search. Enter 2 or more letters of the beginning of the title. The more letters you enter, the more specific the search. Initial articles (the, a, an, etc.) are ignored by the search engine. No wildcards or truncation characters are needed or valid in this search.

Example: A search for educat will find all titles that begin with that string, such as "Educating for employment," "Education and the law," and "Educational assessment."

Title equals:

Enter the exact title. Initial articles (the, a, an, etc.) are ignored by the search engine. No wildcards or truncation characters are needed or valid in this search.

Example: A search for The New York Times will find "New York Times."

ISSN equals:

Enter the exact ISSN with or without a hyphen. Print or electronic ISSNs are accepted, although not all titles have been assigned a print and electronic ISSN.

Example: A search for 03624331 will find "New York Times."

Title contains all words:

Enter one or more title words in any order. This search will match titles that contain all words. You can use an asterisk (*) to find partial words (e.g. neuro*).

Example:

A search for *educa* ann** will find "American annals of education," "Information technology in childhood education annual" and "Educational foundations (Ann Arbor, Mich.)."

Search for a Journal using the A-to-Z list:

Select the letter of the alphabetic for which your journal title begins.

NEWS & VIEWS

Australia ratifies the Kyoto Protocol

On December 3 2007 Prime Minister Kevin Rudd signed the instrument of ratification of the Kyoto Protocol.

In his first official act as Prime Minister he has demonstrated the Government's commitment to tackling climate change.

Ratification of the Kyoto Protocol was considered and approved by the first Executive Council meeting of the Government, and the Governor-General granted approval for Australia to ratify the absent in China and Russia. All Australian uranium becomes nuclear waste and any can find its way into nuclear weapons. Adding fuel to the global nuclear threat is risky and irresponsible.

Traveston Crossing Dam Update

ACF is one of a number of national, state and local environment groups calling on both the State and Federal Labor Governments to reject the proposed Traveston Crossing Dam in South East Queensland.

ACF sustainable cities campaigner, Kate Noble said:

"Under the EPBC Act the Federal Environment Minister must take into account 'community and stakeholder comment' in addition to the assessment prepared by the Queensland Government.

"The new Federal Environment Minister must take account of the evidence given to the recent Senate Inquiry before making a decision on the proposed Traveston Crossing Dam."

Far from being 'rock solid' the Environmental Impact Statement

If you want to Search By Subject, select the subject area of choice from the drop down menu and click on the search button.

The screenshot shows the Alabama State University Electronic Journals website. At the top, there is a header with the university name and logo, and navigation links for 'E-Journal Home Page', 'Help', and 'Library Home Page'. Below the header, there are two main search sections. The first section, 'Find e-journals by title or ISSN', includes a dropdown menu for 'Title begins with', an input field, and a 'Search' button. The second section, 'Browse e-journals by title', features a list of letters from '0-9' to 'Z'. The third section, 'Browse e-journals by subject', includes a dropdown menu for subject categories and a 'Search' button. The dropdown menu is open, showing a list of subject categories such as 'Art, Architecture & Applied Arts', 'Business & Economics', 'Earth & Environmental Sciences', 'Engineering & Applied Sciences', 'General', 'Health & Biological Sciences', 'History & Archaeology', 'Journalism & Communications', 'Languages & Literatures', 'Law, Politics & Government', 'Music, Dance, Drama & Film', 'Philosophy & Religion', 'Physical Sciences & Mathematics', and 'Social Sciences'. Below the dropdown menu, there is a list of subcategories with bullet points, including 'Business Source Premier', 'Campus Research: Law', 'Central Search Test Database (Facts On File World News Digest WebFeat)', 'CINAHL', 'CINAHL with Full Text', 'Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews (CDSR)', 'EBSCOhost EJS', and 'Education Full Text'.

You then need to select from the available subcategories within the selected subject. From there on, follow the same steps as above.
